

FOOD & FEED SAFETY POLICY

HOYER Global Transport BV (HOYER Overseas) recognizes and acknowledges its responsibility for Food and Feed safety.

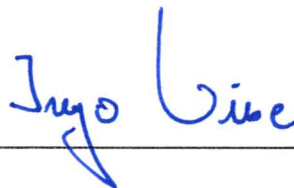

Consequently, HOYER Global Transport BV decided to implement and maintain a Food & Feed Safety Management system for particular offices, complying with the global ISO22000 and Hazard Analyses and Critical Control Points (HACCP) standards. We commit to regularly reviewing compliance against these standards and implementing performance objectives to guarantee customers we are providing a service, that meets their quality expectations.

A Food Safety Team, its members having experience, competence, and knowledge, is charged with the implementation, management, and continual improvement of the Food & Feed Safety Management system by establishing operating procedures and guidelines that minimize the risk to food safety and maintaining/improving employee awareness and knowledge, with necessary and appropriate training. By sharing information with the supply chain such as customers and suppliers (external) and within our organization (internal), HOYER assures compliance with customer's, statutory, regulatory, and industry standards during transportation.

HOYER Global Transport BV will ensure suppliers are sufficiently qualified and/or approved to comply with this policy and that these suppliers are equally committed to meeting all relevant requirements and standards.

This policy is complementing the existing HOYER Group Safety and Quality Policy for logistics services on Feed and Food Products and its corresponding declarations and will be reviewed annually to safeguard it reflects the aims of the company and compliance with legislative and industry requirements.
