

HOYER appoints leadership position from within its own ranks

New management in the Chemilog business unit

Hamburg – 21 September 2016 – The Hamburg logistics company HOYER has made a new appointment to an important leadership position: Ingo Wiese takes over as Director Business Unit Chemilog. Dr. Roland Pütz, the previous Director of the Chemilog business unit, is leaving the company.

Ingo Wiese looks back on 23 years of service with HOYER, during which time he has already successfully occupied various management positions. He has been Director of the Techlog business unit since 2013, and greatly expanded technical services and the Supply Chain Solutions business line. The Supply Chain Solutions area is now being transferred to the Chemilog business unit, and will thus also be the responsibility of Ingo Wiese in the future.

Technical services, previously located in the Techlog business unit, will in future be centralised in the Netlog business unit, which is responsible for managing the group-wide container pool. Technical services include depot, cleaning and workshop services throughout Europe. Heiko Rumfeld will continue to occupy the function of Director Business Unit Netlog.
